Love for Cooking is Tried, Tested and True

A new book featuring talented Boyup Brook home-cook Rhonda Parker has been short-listed for an international award. The story behind Rhonda's love of cooking, her early working life testing recipes for an iconic Australian biscuit brand and her volunteer cooking efforts, is told in Liz Harfull's latest book Tried Tested and True.

The collection of beautifully illustrated stories and carefully revised classic recipes celebrates Australian community cookbooks and the traditions of sharing recipes to help others. It has been short-listed for a 2019 Gourmand Award, due to be announced at a special ceremony in Macau on July 4. Described by their Paris-based organisers as the food culture equivalent of the Olympics, the annual awards honour the best food and wine books, magazines, digital content and publishers from around the world. The 2019 round attracted thousands of entries from more than 200 countries.

A long-list of finalists was announced late last year, with Liz's book named the Australian winner in two categories - best book based around an aspect of food heritage, in which it is now short-listed, and best easy home recipes. As part of her research, Liz viewed around 1000 different community cookbooks, visiting public and private collections, op shops and secondhand stores across Australia.

Her quest also brought her to Boyup Brook, where she first met Rhonda during previous visits relating to a book Liz released in 2014 about country shows and show cooking, which featured a recipe from another Boyup Brook local, Kerri Ivey!

"I came back to Boyup Brook a couple of years later after an author event at the CRC and asked people to bring along their favourite community cookbooks," Liz said. "Among those Rhonda brought in was a very simple hand-printed publication put together by the hospital auxiliary at Bruce Rock in the 1980s. It included a home-made Worcestershire sauce recipe that Rhonda swore by, so I decided to include it in my new book, along with some very helpful additional tips that she provided. That gave me the perfect opportunity to write about Rhonda's life too."

Originally from Sydney, Rhonda loved cooking even as a young child, when her pride and joy was a yellow toy stove, which her grandfather made for her. By the age of ten, she was attending local community cooking classes and dreaming of becoming a homemaker. Rhonda exchanged that idea to work at Arnott's famous biscuit factory at Homebush, after completing two years of studies at the East Sydney Technical College. The position involved developing recipes using Arnott's biscuits, then traveling around NSW to demonstrate them.

A new book featuring talented Boyup Brook home cook Rhonda Parker has been short-listed for an international award. The story behind Rhonda's love of cooking, her early working life testing recipes for an iconic Australian biscuit brand and her volunteer cooking efforts, is told in Liz Harfull's latest book Tried Tested and True.

It was a dramatic lifestyle change for the city girl, but Rhonda threw herself into the local community, serving as music director of the Boyup Brook Country Music Club for ten years, joining the CWA, and volunteering as a show steward. "On many occasions Rhonda also harnessed her skills in cooking and catering for local events and fundraisers, which is what the spirit of community cookbooks is all about," Liz said.

"Since the first known community cookbook was released in Australia way back in the 1890s, these humble little books must have raised many hundreds of thousands, if not millions of dollars, for worthy causes."

Tried Tested and True features popular recipes and the stories behind more than 60 such cookbooks, including the previously untold story of Agnes Barnes. Ably assisted by a small committee, the Doodlakine woman was responsible for compiling and editing WA's much-loved CWA Cookery Book and Household Hints.

My Inbox....

Kaya (hello) and welcome to the July Gazette.

Isn’t nice to have received some good soaking rain!

I say it often, but there is never a dull moment in Boyup Brook. It is amazing to have the variety of activities that we do, and so often it is our community volunteers that pull everything together. Keep up the good work!

And I must say what a great job Aleck is doing in brightening up the building opposite the Post Office! Isn’t it incredible what a coat of paint and a splash of colour can do!

We are heading into another school holiday period, so if you are heading away, please stay safe on the roads, and remember to take care of yourselves, eat well and rest up.

Until next month, Jodi

The Boyup Gazette acknowledges the Noongar people as the traditional custodians of the land on which we live and work. We pay tribute to elders past, present and emerging and recognise the contribution they have made, and continue to make, to our community.

Facelift for Historic Building

You may know the building as “Strapp’s”, or “Seeber’s”, or “the second-hand shop”, but have you seen it lately? The building on the corner of Bridge Street and Railway Parade (opposite the Post Office) is undergoing a facelift, courtesy of current tenant, Aleck Elward.

What started out as a storage shed for Aleck, has transformed into an evolving project with a touch of nostalgia.

A close inspection of the building’s exterior revealed traces of an old Holden logo, which Aleck has restored and repainted. This led to a fresh coat of paint across the entire building, as well as the old fuel bowser and posts and chain surrounding the yard.

On the inside, Aleck has been accumulating gym and exercise equipment, with the majority being donated through the generosity of community members. It is currently used by individuals and the football club. There is also ping pong, air hockey and a pool table.

And why? Aleck has spent years as a shearer working in country towns and has noticed the decline of rural populations and service availability. He hopes this project will brighten the town up and create a positive vibe in the community.

“What it’s going to grow into, I don’t know,” Aleck said, but he is having fun and keeping busy doing it.

There will be a break Tuesday 16th of July and information about the continuation of the program will be available at the end of July.

ShoWcAse in Pixels Competition

The ShoWcAse in Pixels Competition (formerly known as Banners in the Terrace) is an annual exhibition of artwork from Local Governments. Traditionally, the artwork, in the form of physical banners, was hung on the poles along St Georges and Adelaide Terrace in Perth. This year the artwork will be a digital display on the tower at the heart of Yagan Square in the Perth CBD from Monday 29 July - Sunday 11 August.

Congratulations to Meriol Beatty and her middle school art students. The below description of the artwork is included in the 2019 submission.

We have a NEW awareness in our community of the need to take ACTion regarding the growing number of people of all ages suffering with mental health problems. We thought that the sense of BELONGING, INCLUSIVITY and CONNECTION in our little community meant that no one need ever WALK ALONE. We have included youth from all walks of life gathered around a campfire as this is a common occurrence in the winter months in the district. Campfires give us the opportunity to gather together, share our joys, talk about our problems and support one another. We have applied water based outdoor paint onto Hardiflex board so that the banner can be displayed permanently in the town.

What's on at the Early Learning Centre

It's been a very busy month so far at the ELC. We welcome our new animals in resident: Pol Dorset Lambs; Timmy and Shaun. Our boisterous friends can often be heard baaing when its time for a feed, or skipping around the playground. Children have enjoyed preparing bottles and developing their animal husbandry skills.

We also have a great school holiday program coming up for the July break, and we are now approved to take children up until the day before they turn 8. Spaces are filling fast, so get your bookings in early.

Boyup Brook Early Learning Centre is committed to ongoing, continuous quality improvement and planning. As part of this process, we are asking all families and community members to comment on our Service Philosophy. This document, underpins our service as a whole and is used everyday to inform our program and practices. If you have five minutes pop over to the Shire website and add your comments and feedback via our survey link. Paper copies are also available at the ELC until the end of July. See you in the playground!

July Wildflower Watch

It is time to make plans to stroll through your nearest piece of bush land when the weather is too inviting to stay indoors. Remember to look carefully because a good number of our native flowers are very small but quite exquisite when studied closely.

This month Jug and Banded Greenhood orchids come up to bloom. From now on to late October the bush is an adventure of discovery and worth the time it takes to go looking. Two plants coming into bloom in the Visitor Centre garden are the Hypocalymma (largish bush; small white fluffy flowers) and the Chorizema (little red pea flower). Did you know that there are booklets which have flowers seen in the BB Shire available at the Visitor Centre?

Women In Farming Enterprises

In June, Boyup Brook WIFE members took time out to explore the Perup Ecology Centre. Lead by Blackwood Basin Groups’ Program Manager - Katie Hill, we took in the beautiful eco-friendly facilities and accommodation as well as exploring the resources, walk trails and rich history of the 56,000 hectare reserve.

It was a great opportunity to raise and discuss topics such as biosecurity, feral animal control and the systems that Blackwood Basin Group have on offer.

July will see us teaming up with our closest WIFE Inc neighbour, Cranbrook.

The agenda will have a focus on farming businesses and a Financial Metric presentation. The meeting will be hosted at the Frankland River Community Resource Centre from 9:30am.

In August we will be meeting again with Dan Glover from CSBP for an on farm visit at Granite Hill and also a look at the Paperless Office System.

If you haven’t checked WIFE out as yet, this is a great opportunity to collaborate, learn and socialise with like minded Farmers.

As another Rylington Park Management Committee AGM rolls around, I take the opportunity to look back at the last 12 months. Once again it has been a busy and productive year for the committee. The dry autumn and early winter experienced by all was also challenging for the Managers with a large amount of extra feed having to be bought in to maintain the sheep. The season however finished well and good yields and commodity prices have meant we are again in a good financial position at the end of the year.

The continuation of the shearing and wool handling schools is pleasing to see. These are well supported shearing contractors and ag schools both local and state wide. I was invited to attend the WA Shearing Contractors Association AGM in January, where the topic of training was a key point of discussion. The Schools are funded by AWI and are not part of the TAFE system as was previously the case. This meant that students completing the training did not show up on government statistics and this raised concern from industry about accessing future workers. I feel I was able to alleviate some of these concerns as for the past three years more than 100 students per year have been through the course. Thanks to the hard work of the trainers and Rylington Managers the schools are now seen as the premier location for shearer and wool handler training in the state.

The Women’s day was once again an outstanding success with a full sell out and good causes well supported with donations and promotion. I was fortunate to be on the gate at this event and to see so many people get in to the spirit of the day was great to see.

The field day in September was a similar success with a butchery demonstration and farm safety talks some of the highlights. I would like to thank all the people and businesses involved in both these days, because without their assistance they would not go ahead.

The removal and repurposing of the Boyup Brook saleyards has been completed, with Elders conducting the sale of remaining yards that where not used on Rylington Park. The upgrade of the external sheep yards, with the saleyard panels, is complete and are a great asset to Rylington Park. The Sale generated approximately $45,000 that will be put towards community projects as decided by the committee. Thank you to all those who supported the sale and the removal of the yards.

On a personal note, after three years as Chairman, I have decided to step aside and let someone else take the position. I would like to thank the committee for their support over the last three years. Volunteers are the life blood of a small community and I have been very lucky to have the fantastic support of Peter Reid, Richard Turner, Helen O’Connell, Harold Wass, Steve Thompson, Ben Creek and Paul Omodei. Also, past committee members Charles Caldwell and Graham Aird.

Looking back, it is hard to pick a highlight from the past three years, there have been many challenges and rewards from this position. I would say the one thing that I am most proud of is the introduction of three year terms of employment for our Managers Marc and Erlanda Deas. To secure their services for an extended term and not a year by year prospect gives me confidence that Rylington Park will continue to be a vibrant and important part of the Boyup Brook community.

Science Incursion
On Tuesday 28th May, the students in both the Primary and Middle school had a visit from Earth Science Western Australia (ESWA). The students took part in some hands-on activities related to the Earth and Space Science curriculum and learned about a wide range of topics including plate tectonics, renewable and non-renewable resources, volcanoes and lava, the chemistry of rocks and also investigated why some special beads changed colour!

ESWA’s visit to our school was provided free of charge and was made possible by funding from their supporters and we would like to thank them for this opportunity for our students.

Lightning Carnival
Staff have all been busy preparing our primary students for the Winter Carnival to be played on Friday 28 June in which students will be playing Football, Netball, Netta and Soccer. We will be playing against St Mary’s, Bridgetown Primary, Balingup, Greenbushes, Kirup and St Brigid’s.

Op Shop Quiz Night
What a fun night we had at the Op Shop Quiz Night on Saturday 8th June! The night had great questions, fun games, auctioned items and a fashion parade (including Mr Beatty sliding around).

Tony Barber (Peter Harvey) did a fabulous job as our Quiz Master, helped throughout the night with games by Renee, Georgia, Sam and our auction extraordinaire Kelly Mader. Thank you to our bar staff Melissa Waller and Belinda Box and our Bar Manager Kerry Clark. A huge thank you to Bobby with doing a fabulous job with our quiz questions and was a scorer on the night along with Sally Larkin.

Over $3000 was raised on the night and will go towards Primary Amphitheatre Shade Sails. Thank you to everyone that supported us on the night by coming along and joining in the fun.

A huge thank you go to all our generous sponsors, please support them as they always support us!

Already looking forward to 2020 Rock Quiz themed Quiz Night!

Year 7 English
In Year 7 English we have been busy learning what is to be a consumer and if we are influenced by advertising. We have also looked at Fad Products (remember, that thing we all had to have: a slinky, a scrunchie or perhaps bobble socks). In groups the students came up with their own Fad Product and produced an advertising poster, a prototype printed on the 3D printer and short promotional video using persuasive and advertising techniques. Thank you to Mr Wells who has patiently printed the prototypes from designs that the students created and all his help with the editing of the videos.
From the Lions Den

Lions Club is pleased to say that the Lions Community bus has had a couple of outings to Bunbury and surrounds, Bridgetown to the Repertory Theatre, Picnic in Bridgetown. Our elderly citizens of the Lodge and community absolutely enjoy their time away from town and getting out and about in the fresh air.

There have been several groups of folk visiting Mick Burgess Pig Collection, and many have commented on the lovely New bus parked outside his house, their comment “wow! lucky Boyup Brook”. This comment makes me feel very proud of our little town in coming together, with many many small donations, eating the Lions BBQ Sausage, and of course the very generous folk who gave bigger donations, ALF Lions, Boyup Brook Co Op, and Boyup Brook Shire Council and many more, to make the Lions Bus happen, Thank You Boyup Brook.

Bus Charges............Bond $300, refundable after inspection by Lions member.
- $1.00 per Km
- Fuel tank to be left Full on return.
- Minimal dirt road travel is allowed i.e. entrance into Winery, access to a property, eg Open Gardens, etc
- Speed Limit 90kmh
- No eating or drinking, except for WATER on bus and, absolutely NO ALCOHOL.

Any person, Club or Organisation hiring the bus will be asked to sign a Contract acknowledging that they have READ the RULES.

Also a form stating that they are aware of and read the Lions International Insurance Policy.

Please don't be frightened to Hire our wonderful bus, the Rules are in place to protect our wonderful investment.

Care Alerts.....I urge any person or persons to contact Lion Mick Burgess 97652252, if you feel the need to have a medical alert system in place should you become ill, fall etc. Its always best to be Safe than sorry.

Lions collection tins are still in some businesses as some folk still want to contribute, and that is fantastic. We will keep these donations for upkeep of the bus. Pharmacy $70, BP $97, and another I just cannot remember where from $30 this last two months, Thanks again.

Fertiliser $, Thank You to the folk who nominated the Lions Community Bus to benefit from their purchasing fertiliser, $510 from memory, and Cameron Atherton who has donated time, concrete and machinery to finish off the Bus shelter. WOW!

Many thanks, Glenda Moroni

St Mary’s Primary School News

It’s not every day that students get to see their principal arrested and put in a police car but that’s what happened at St Mary’s recently! Mr Ronan Kelly was kind enough to demonstrate being handcuffed and taken away during a recent educational visit by local police officers.

The stunt was part of an educational visit by police, who talked to all students about what policing involved, including a demonstration of sirens, lights and an information session on the weapons carried by WA police. Students were interested to learn about the different facets of policing and what kind of training is required to become a police officer.

Students also got a taste of how our State Parliament works recently, with a visit from the educational arm of Parliament House. The Pop-Up Parliament incursion involved learning about the difference between laws and rules for younger children, and for the older students, a re-enactment of the process of passing a Bill through the two Houses of Parliament. Year 6 students were particularly interested, after having visited Parliament House on their recent school camp.

Our music programme received a boost recently when the Parents and Friends’ Association donated 24 new ukuleles to the school. All students have been enjoying learning this instrument, thanks to the many talents of Mrs Rochelle Gear.

A total of eight Yr 4 and 5 students took their First Eucharist recently. Congratulations to Koby Brown, Lillianne Caldwell, Hayley Hester, Grace Lee Steere, Sienna Mead, Sienna Rhodes, Sophie Thompson and Scarlett Gear.

St Mary’s kitchen garden will soon be producing some fantastic winter vegetables after a generous donation from the Boyup Brook Co-op.

The garden is managed by students, with each class adopting a bed, and the fruit of their labour destined to be used in the canteen menu.

The Co-op donated a variety of seedlings, seeds and companion plants to the project.

The school’s Parents Friends’ association recently organized a chicken coop for two resident hens, Pecky and Nugget, who provided eggs for quiches as a canteen special recently.

Once again, there has been a range of activities conducted at the CRC during June.

The wonderful Comfortmakers' quilts were displayed, with a bonus workshop; several exams were supervised for university students studying externally; support was provided for a number of community groups to update their constitutions before the June 30 deadline; a computer basics course was conducted and the WISE program continued to attract between 11-14 participants per week.

Our videoconferencing facility was utilised to deliver a Parenting workshop, which was almost cancelled due to not having sufficient numbers for the presenter to travel. However, using the available technology, four parents were able to receive the valuable training and information. Additionally, a workshop regarding Single Use Plastics was also presented via videoconference.

By the time the next Gazette is produced, the CRC will have a new trainee employed! It will be exciting to have an addition to our team.

The CRC has recently extended its facility and rooms to another two groups (GROW mental wellness peer support and Autumn club), providing a safe and welcoming space for community members.

A grant has been received to offer a new computer training program. Be Connected is a Federal Government supported program with the aim of ‘Every Australian Online’ aimed at those over 50 to access simple computer training. Following the launch event on July 23, The CRC will provide weekly access on a Wednesday from 2-3pm which will be self-guided training, as well as monthly sessions in a group setting to concentrate on a particular topic.

BECOME A CRC MEMBER

WHY? BECAUSE IT’S A WIN-WIN FOR EVERYONE!

Electorate Meetings
The recent two week Parliamentary break has given me time to meet constituents in every town in the Warren-Blackwood, covering topics such as environment, tourism, aged care, and housing. Whenever Parliament is not sitting I try to get around as much of the electorate as I can. If you want to meet to discuss your issue, please contact my office to arrange a suitable time.

Nationals WA Regional Engagement
In July the Nationals team will visit businesses and organisations in the Wheatbelt and Roe regions. It is important we gain a broad understanding of issues outside our own electorate as this strengthens our ability to represent the interests of regional WA. Many topics affect all regions, eg hospitals, aged care, NDIS, mining, agriculture, small business, and drug rehabilitation programs.

Regional Growth Prospects Report
The Regional Australia Institute has just released its national report which identifies Plantagenet as the most specialised area for (wine and meat) food processing employment in regional Australia. The region is also achieving job growth above national and industry trends in tourism and creative industries, with evidence investment in the region could result in significant job growth.

Budget Estimates
Given the evidence in the Regional Growth Prospects Report, it is even more upsetting that Royalties for Regions continues to be gutted by the McGowan Government. During Budget Estimates questioning it became apparent the stated extra $131m for agriculture actually contains a significant component of Royalties for Regions and Federal money. This ‘smoke and mirrors’ strategy of the McGowan Government only works until the facts are uncovered. We also found ongoing funding for the Regional Film Fund is not guaranteed. This fund has attracted filmmakers to WA to produce a number of films including more recently Rams, Dirt Music and H is for Happiness.

Try Dry July
It’s that time of year again, when the Cancer Council teams up with the Dry July Foundation to raise funds to improve the comfort and wellbeing of people affected by cancer.

Apart from this worthy fundraiser, there are other benefits of taking a break from alcohol.

1. Weight loss:
Alcohol is high in energy, with one standard drink containing 315 kilojoules from the alcohol alone. It also promotes weight gain. When we drink alcohol, our body focuses on breaking down the alcohol and getting it out of the system as quickly as possible. When alcohol becomes the metabolic priority, we don't burn fats and sugars as efficiently, and so store more of it as body fat. Taking a break from drinking will go a long way in helping you lose weight, stabilise your blood pressure and it will give your liver a rest!

2. Increased energy levels:
Alcohol might help us fall asleep, but it leads to poorer quality sleep. Within one week of giving up alcohol, you can expect to experience an increase in wakefulness, enhanced work performance, better sleep quality and improved concentration. Not being glued to the couch recovering also means more opportunities to get out and about and reduce your fatigue long term through exercise.

3. Improved mental health:
A lot of us are guilty of using alcohol as a way to unwind. It might feel like it works, but alcohol is often used as a short-term coping mechanism. It can be damaging to our mental health and regular drinking can actually trigger or worsen symptoms of anxiety. Dry July is an excellent time to get to the bottom of the stressors in your life and address the root causes. By giving up the booze you’ll have more time to test out some other ways to cope with stress. Yoga, meditation, exercise or listening to music can all be excellent stress-busters.

4. Healthier skin
Alcohol dehydrates the skin, promotes inflammation and causes small blood vessels in the skin to widen, which can lead to broken capillaries on the face. So giving it up will leave you with hydrated healthier-looking skin.

5. Save money
The average Australian household will save $1664 a year (or roughly 85 avocado toasts) by ditching the booze. That’s more money to spend on brunch with friends and less spent on panadol to nurse your hangover!

Boyup’s Bloomin’ Lot

On a wintry but sunny afternoon Garden Club visited the Aussie/Viet garden of Norman and Kym Renshaw in Greenbushes. The front view of their home from where we parked displayed a lovely array of shrubs and perennials mostly in flower, and some interesting artefacts placed among them. As the home is set quiet close to the front boundary as we walked around the side path with garden on both sides filled with shade loving plants of ferns, Bromeliads and Fuchsias the path opened up to a large back garden. To our surprise we were greeted with masses and masses of flowering Perennials, Geraniums and succulents. The colours were amazing for a winter garden.

Standing tall and stately in the centre of the back garden was a gum tree with its canopy high above the garden giving protection from heavy rains and frost. The gardens were densely planted with a huge variety of plants. A different dimension was given by the addition of tyres which had been painted in soft muted colours giving height to the gardens as well as providing extra space for additional plantings.

Many features had been placed among the garden of Vietnamese influence bringing a blend of two cultures and many of which had been made by Norman himself much credit goes to both Norman and Kym as this garden is not yet three years old and has already been opened in the Open Garden Festival twice in the last year. We enjoyed afternoon tea in the lovely Vietnamese inspired outdoor living space before returning to Boyup Brook.

Our next Garden Club meeting will take place on 9th July. We will be visiting the Geer’s garden as well as the Teapot Gallery. Entry to the Teapot Gallery will be $5.00 each which includes afternoon tea. We will meet as usual at the Boyup Town Hall car park to carpool to the Geer’s garden from there leaving at 1:30pm. Any enquiries to Mrs Yvonne Hales 0427 772 718

Hints and tips for July gardening

Be sure to spray fruit trees susceptible to curly leaf with spray specifically for curly leaf. Rake up and burn leaves from under these trees.

Rose pruning can begin this month. Before pruning wait until most or all of the leaves have dropped from the rose bushes. If you need to prune early be sure to strip all the leaves off each bush to prevent transferring any disease from one bush to another. Any thicker stems on the roses being pruned would benefit from a light spray with Steriprune to seal the cut ends. As each bush is pruned immediately give it a complete cover spray with Lime Sulphur to help prevent Black Spot, rust and mildew in the new season.

Rake up and burn any fallen leaves from under each bush which can harbour disease.

Give lawns an occasional light mow to take tops of any winter weeds which could set seed and spread.

And that’s your Bloomin’ lot!

NAIDOC Week

NAIDOC Week will be celebrated across Australia from July 7 to 14 2019.

What is NAIDOC Week? NAIDOC originally stood for ‘National Aborigines and Islanders Day Observance Committee’ which was once responsible for organising national activities to celebrate the history, culture and achievements of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

Each year, a theme is chosen to reflect the important issues and events for NAIDOC Week. In 2019, the theme is “Voice. Treaty. Truth. Let’s work together for a shared future.”

What’s happening locally for NAIDOC Week?
- The Boyup Brook Early Learning Centre is conducting a school holiday program for 0-7 year olds from 9-12 July with a variety of activities.
- The Boyup Brook CRC is holding an information session about an online Noongar Language course and also to start a general community conversation about recognising local Aboriginal history. All welcome for morning tea and a discussion from 10:30am-12noon on Friday, July 12.

Noongar Seasons

Makuru—season of fertility
Winter: June-July
Time to move inland; More food available.

Makuru sees the coldest and wettest time of the year come into full swing. Traditionally, this was a good time of the year to move inland from the coast as the winds turned to the west and south bringing the cold weather, rains and occasionally snow on the peaks of the Stirling and Porongurup Ranges.

As the waterways and catchments started to fill, people were able to move about their country with ease and thus their food sources changed from sea, estuarine and lake foods to those of the lands in particular the grazing animals such as the kangaroo. As well as a food source, animals provided people with many other things. For example, ‘Yongar’ or kangaroos not only provided meat but also ‘bookas’ (animal skin cloaks). Nothing was left; even the bones and sinews were used in the manufacturing of bookas and for hunting tools such as spears.

Makuru is also a time for a lot of animals to be pairing up in preparation for breeding in the coming season. If you look carefully, you might now see pairs of ‘Wardongs’ (ravens) flying together. Upon the lakes and rivers of the Southwest, you’ll also start to see a large influx of the Black Swan or ‘Mali’ as they too prepare to nest and breed.

Flowers that will start to emerge include the blues and purples of the Blueberry Lilly (Dianella revoluta) and the Purple Flags (Patersonia occidentalis). Source: http://www.bom.gov.au/iwk/calendars/nyoongar.shtml#makuru

Be Still and Know..... God

‘Those who live in accordance with the Spirit have their minds set on what the Spirit desires.’ Romans 8:5 NIV

To become the person God wants you to be, you must ‘set your mind’ on the right things. You say, ‘If only my circumstances were different.’ Your circumstances don’t determine the quality of your life; how you think about them does.

Poet Frederick Langbridge wrote, ‘Two men looked out through prison bars; one saw mud, the other saw the stars.’ Both men were in identical circumstances, but their perspectives were entirely different. One looked for beauty and found it; the other focused on ugliness and found it. It works like this: your circumstances in life produce certain emotions.

So how do you change your emotional response when you feel powerless over people and circumstances? By changing how you think about them! True change always begins in your mind.

The Bible says, ‘As he thinks within himself, so he is.’ (Proverbs 23:7 NAS) The way you think inevitably reflects the way you live. So to become the best version of yourself, the person God wants you to be—think great thoughts! People who live great lives are people who habitually think great thoughts.

You say, ‘But I can’t help thinking the way I do.’ Then ‘let God transform you into a new person by changing the way you think.’ (Romans 12:2 NLT)

God’s Word will help you to think with faith instead of fear, assurance instead of anxiety, and joy instead of negativity. Once you ‘set your mind on what the Spirit desires,’ your life will begin to change for the better.

Direction for Our Times

We continue our cycle of monthly messages for 2019 with the message from June 1, 2011 for our prayer groups and personal reflection.

June 1, 2011

Jesus My dear apostles, humanity suffers. If you have eyes to see, then you will see that all around you there are children of God who have become disconnected from their Father.

When a child suffers, that child is consoled if his father is nearby and engaged with him. The child feels understood, even in his great pain.

The child feels that there is ultimate safety, even when he faces temporary risk. To know that one is destined for ultimate safety provides for a disposition that withstands any difficulty, even the prospect of death. Beloved apostles, so close to me, do you see that you have something that most do not?

Do you see that your anticipation of ultimate safety provides you with a solid wall at your back which will, someday, absorb you into itself? At that time, you will never be at risk again. You will rejoice completely, not only in your own safety, but in the safety of all those around you.

You will be absorbed into the Communion of Saints who so perfectly understand the struggle of humanity that they work tirelessly and joyfully for the salvation of their brothers and sisters remaining on Earth. When you finish your time on Earth you, too, will understand the great things that I accomplished through the small ‘yes’ answers you gave me on your journey through time.

You will say, ‘Yes, it was worth everything.’ You will say this, dear friends, regardless of the amount of suffering or sacrifice you endured. But, even as I rejoice in your heavenly heading, I urge you to strain forward in my service because others should possess your confidence and security, too.

If I told you that there was one person who was lost and that he could be found, would you rejoice with me? If I told you that this person, currently suffering, could be claimed for Heaven through your allegiance to me on this day, would you give me that allegiance? For one more day?

This is what I am asking of you. Answer ‘yes’ to me. Give me this day. Watch, dear apostle, what I can do with your ‘yes’ answer today. Look back and see what I have done with your ‘yes’ answers in the past. You will see, in looking back, the barest truth about what I accomplished through you.

Only in Heaven will you see the full extent of what the Father has gained through your presence in his heart. Trust me, while I obtain peace for you and peace for others through you.

Footy Double for Brothers

Local brothers, Tom and Luke Hallett, are kicking big goals having both been selected to represent Western Australia in the School Sport Australia National AFL Championships in their respective Under 15 and Under 12 age groups.

Both boys were selected to be part of the Next Generation squad which is run by State coaches and were put through a rigorous training regime every Sunday over summer in Perth. They had exposure to training with some AFL assistant coaches, and sometimes AFL players, which helps to develop skills and fitness levels.

The State trials were held over April/May with over 500 boys trialling in each age group. This number was gradually reduced to 24 over a series of weeks after trial games and fitness testing. The teams now train every Monday in Perth.

15 year old Tom, who is now schooling at Aquinas College, will fly to Launceston, Tasmania end of July for his competition, with Luke (11), a student at Boyup Brook DHS, competing in early August in Mandurah.

Roos News

Mental Health - I am in no way an expert in this field but what I do know is that you don’t need to be an expert to make a difference. How hard is it to ask “How are you mate?” or “Do you have time for a coffee?” or “How was your day?” We, as everyday people can make a positive impact on mental health. Let me explain why; According to Funders & Founders, they have estimated that on average we will interact with three new people a day, that is 1095 people in one year and if we live to the average age of 78.3 that is 85 738 people in a lifetime (less the first 20 years of our lives).

The professionals in this field play a very important role in the field of mental health, but the problem is there isn’t enough of them to be on every street, in every pub, at every sporting club or at every school. We all can make a difference, and you may be unaware that you are even doing it.

Hello and welcome to the Roos News, These above words were written some time last year and still apply more than ever today. I would like to emphasize the importance that sporting clubs have in nurturing mental health. Sporting clubs are a reason to bring people together, to form friendships, to communicate with others, to give back through volunteering and to compete (which keeps us in good physical condition and stimulates the brain at the same time). No-one should underestimate the importance of sporting clubs in our lives and the positive effect it has on our mental health.

Here at the Roos Football Club we may not be getting huge scores on the board, but we are challenging our components and it’s only a matter of time before we can sing our song.

The BBFC committee has applied for a grant to revamp and equip our tired and out-dated kitchen, so fingers crossed we are successful and we can full fill our endeavours.

The BBFC is in desperate need of HELP! On our home game days, it takes a tremendous amount of effort to hold these days successfully. The day starts at 8am through to midnight and in that time, we can see 500 people come and go.

So, if you can; run the boundaries; spend a few hours in a canteen; help behind the bar, umpire a junior game or just put the rubbish bins out. Then PLEASE PLEASE come forward and see our secretary, Therese Lloyd, or our Junior president, Alesha Bock, or even myself to make yourself known.

Thank you for your time and just remember - There is no health without Mental Health.

Save the Date - Saturday July 6

The BBSRA (Boyup Brook Sport and Recreation Association) is planning to hold a function on Saturday July 6 2019.

All sporting and recreation groups have bonded together to form an association for the betterment of our facilities in our shire and we would like as many people as possible to be involved in a combined function.

Further details of the event will follow shortly but we are thinking bonfire, activities, spit, music and just a nice community gathering for a common purpose. Here is a chance to make a difference, as a united front, to improve our facilities for the benefit of all ages and activities.

Hockey Development Opportunity

In January, BBDHS Year 8 student, Callum Emmerson attended a hockey trial in Bunbury after his mum Sue saw a notice on Facebook. They didn't really know what it was about, but thought it was worth heading over to give it a try.

The trial turned out to be through the BMR Coaching Academy who were doing trials in the South West region, looking for potential junior hockey players to compete in an internationally recognised hockey tournament called the FHE Cup.

BMR stands for Ben, Mitchell and Rachel who are the initial founding three of the academy, and have competed in this tournament representing Victoria because they were not able to get in the WA squad.

The BMR is solely focused on assisting regional 12-18 year olds to develop their hockey skills and to take them “on an incredible journey.”

Callum was accepted into the academy for the year, and will play in the FHE Cup to be held in Perth in late November, early December against teams from Japan, Malaysia, Singapore and other Australian development junior hockey teams.

In preparation, Callum will participate in several weekends of specialised training and conditioning camps, with the first training camp held in Mount Barker on the weekend of June 8 and 9.

Callum said, “I am looking forward to this experience.”

What a fantastic season we are having, its wonderful to see so many kids taking to the field each week and big thanks to all our wonderful parents for all your help and support! Junior Hockey will be taking part in the Community Sport Day on Saturday July 6 with a change in game times for that week. Our first game will be at 12.00pm with the second game at 1.15pm. It would be fabulous to see some old and new faces come down and have a look at our juniors playing.
